The Christmas Eve services begin at eleven o'clock and at eleven-thirty o'clock.

The eleven o'clock hour is the time for starting the service at the Federated Church, where Mrs. Adolph Adler is in charge of a program featuring special music by the choir. Mrs. A. V. Smithson will be the assisting soloist.

At eleven-thirty o'clock, services will start at the Church of Our Saviour. These will include special music by the vested choir including the familiar and well loved Christmas carols. The service will conclude with the celebration by the Holy Communion, by the Ven. Rex A. Barron, rector of the church.

Midnight services are announced by St. Patrick's church with a High Mass during which the choir will render the "Missa de Angelis." The offertory will be "Adeste Fideles."

Roll Call Aides Are Thanked

Receipts Of Red Cross Chapter Pass $1,000 With 6 Districts Unreported

Receipts of the 1940 roll call of El Dorado County Chapter of Red Cross are more than $1,000 with six districts of the county as yet unreported. T. S. Marlor, chairman of the chapter, revealed on Monday.

The chairman, expressing the belief that recent illnesses in the county had, perhaps, made it impossible for all district chairmen to conclude their work promptly, said that it is highly probable that the total roll call receipts will approach if not exceed $1,100.

"The chapter takes this opportunity to thank the volunteer workers for their wonderful co-operation in our great humanitarian work," the chairman said. "This year's Roll Call, added to the War Relief contributions of last Fall, constitute a record of which El Dorado County should be proud."

HEAVY RAIN AND WINDS HERALDS NEW STORM FOR COAST

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — The Pacific Coast battered down the hatches and looked forward to more heavy rain and winds today and Christmas day as another storm approached.

Gales were predicted for the coast from the Canadian line to Central California.

Slides delayed many trains and closed highways. Southern California was mopping up after exceptionally heavy rains, ranging from 1.80 inches at Los Angeles to 3.41 inches at San Luis Obispo.

150,000 AGED CITIZENS IN STATE RECEIVE OLD AGE SECURITY

Christmas day in California will see over 150,000 aged citizens receiving old age security, according to a report released today by the State Department of Social Welfare in Sacramento.

Pointing out that 149,739 recipients received the aged aid in November, 1940, the report noted that normal increase would carry the case load figure beyond the 150,000 mark during December.

In El Dorado County 470 persons received November warrants from the county auditor for aged aid in an average amount of $38.85 each. The total aged aid figure for El Dorado county was $18,261.

Martha A. Chickering, director of the state department, further pointed out that the State's aid to needy children program paid $821,520.22 to 42,048 children during November.

The aid to needy blind program aided 7,351 recipients with an average of $48.03 each during November. The total expenditures were $353,043.94.

The aged blind and children's programs all together form California's public assistance program under the Federal Social Security Act. Each payment represents a combination of federal, state and county funds.

Nation's Xmas Fete Arranged

Exercises For 16th Time At Noon Wednesday At Foot Of Giant Sequoia

By ROBERT FAHS
United Press Staff Correspondent
PRESNO (UP)—High above the San Joaquin valley in the rugged snow-covered Sierra Nevada mountains a ceremony, symbolic of this nation's commemoration of the birth of Christ, will be conducted at noon tomorrow at the base of towering General Grant tree, "The Nation's Christmas Tree."

Surrounded by giant redwood trees, Sequoia Gigantea, a group of pilgrims will kneel in prayer and song at the base of the 267-foot General Grant tree to venerate the birth of Christ. It will be the 16th annual ceremony.

The sacred services have been held at the foot of General Grant tree since 1925, despite snowstorms on several Christmas Days. While the ceremonies are in progress, the entire program will be re-enacted over a Fresno radio station, 65 miles away, and broadcast on a western network.

One of the features of the musical program will be the singing of the song, "Star of the East," which was written for the Nation's Christmas Tree Celebration by Charles Wakefield Cadman, the American composer, and Grace Osburn Wharton, author. A mixed chorus of school children will sing such well-known Yuletide carols as "Oh Come, All Ye Faithful," "Silent Night," "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem," "Joy to the World," and "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear."

The 50-centuries old General Grant, which was growing thousands of years before Christ was born in Bethlehem, is the second largest tree in the world, being exceeded in height only by the General Sherman tree. The trees are about 25 miles apart, with the General Sherman reaching a height of 272 feet. The General Grant is 267 feet tall.

Miss Louisiana Schnell Is Hospital Patient

Miss Louisiana Schnell, of the Placerville Grammar school faculty, is a patient at Placerville Sanatorium for the treatment of a streptococcus sore throat. Relatives report that she is not receiving visitors and that up to Tuesday noon only one of the family had been permitted to visit her. Miss Schnell was recently installed as worthy matron of Fallen Leaf Chapter No. 90, Order of Eastern Star. The chapter's meeting on Monday of this week was canceled.

Miss Diana Barker came up Tuesday for the holidays at home. Diana is attending a school of dental nursing at San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Burke and son are due from Oakland this evening to spend Christmas with Grandpa and Grandma William Albright.

56 BASKETS GIVEN OUT BY SANTA

County Welfare Office Co-Operates In Civic Christmas Distribution

It's going to be a merrier Christmas in fifty-six homes of El Dorado County as a result of the demonstration of the Christmas spirit given by several agencies which have combined to distribute fifty-six baskets of Christmas cheer.

"I want to thank everyone who has co-operated in the Christmas basket distribution," said Mrs. Elizabeth Sayers, county welfare officer, whose office was a clearing house for the distribution.

"All of the baskets have gone," she emphasized, "to homes where, I am sure, there would have been no Christmas except for this help."

Mrs. Sayers reported that the Placerville Lions contributed fifty dollars which paid for nineteen baskets. Nurses at Placerville Sanatorium, instead of exchanging presents, lumped their contributions together and turned them over to the welfare officer. They amounted to twenty-two dollars and eighty-one cents and paid for seven baskets.

Two individuals made contributions aggregating six dollars. The Placerville Soroptimists gave $15 which bought four baskets including toys.

El Dorado Chapter, Order of De Molay, sent six baskets and gave toys.

Placerville Assembly, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, sent three baskets. Boy Scouts sent six and the American Legion Auxiliary eleven baskets.

The Shakespeare Club contributed toys from its Christmas tree party as did the Lions, the Bank of America employees and the De Molay.

Each basket included, in addition to foods and other requisites as the case required, toys candy, nuts and oranges.

J. G. Woodward Died Tuesday

Former Garage Operator In Placerville Succumbs At Home Of His Aunt

James G. Woodward, 60, who was for nearly twenty years proprietor of the Placerville Garage on the site now operated by the Cannon Chevrolet agency, died early Tuesday at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Ella Cotherin, at Sacramento.

Mr. Woodward had been seriously ill for several weeks and had moved to Sacramento from his residence at Lindon, San Joaquin County, to be under a physician's care.

The announcement of his passing was received with expressions of sorrow and of sympathy for the bereaved family by their many Placerville friends.

Mr. Woodward was born near Clarksville, in Sacramento County, and lived his early life in the Clarksville and Folsom vicinity. As a young man he was employed in gold dredging by the Natoms Company for a number of years and resided at that time at Fair Oaks.

The family moved to Placerville about seventeen years ago and Mr. Woodward operated the Placerville Garage until about three years ago when he returned to the gold mining industry and was employed at dredging in San Joaquin County.

Early this fall, Mrs. Woodward and the smaller children moved from Placerville to Lindon to reside there during the tenure of his employment.

Mr. Woodward is survived by his wife, Mrs. June Yost Woodward, and by two daughters and three sons, Mrs. Alice Woodward Veerkamp, June Woodward, and James Woodward, Robert Woodward and Jack Woodward.

He also is survived by a brother, Jack Woodward, of Woodland; and a sister, Mrs. J. E. Fox, of Placerville, in addition to several grandchildren and other relatives.

Son Born to Actress

Film actress Andrea Leeds became the mother of an eight-pound boy at St. Vincent's Hospital in Hollywood. Both were reported doing nicely. She is the wife of Robert S. Howard, noted sportsman and son of Charles S. Howard, owner of Seabiscuit, famous race horse.

INQUESTS HELD IN 3 DEATHS

Inquiry In Lumbering Fatality Continued Until Future Date

Coroner A. J. Orell conducted inquests to establish the causes of three recent fatalities in the county on Monday night. Review of the circumstances of a fourth case, the fatal injury of Gene Ransom, in a lumbering accident, was continued owing to the absence of key witnesses.

The same jury sat in all three cases, although different foremen served.

In the matter of the death of James Keys Coleman, who died of injuries received in a multi-car crash on the highway east of Placerville about two weeks ago, the jury found the death resulted from an accident involving three cars "due to slick condition of the highway." Henry Toedt was foreman of the jury.

In the matter of the death of Jack George Wade, found dead with a shotgun by his side on or about December 12th, the jury found that death was due to gunshot wounds "accidentally inflicted." J. A. Tuman was the jury foreman.

In the matter of the death of Robert Anderson Banta, found dead on or about December 19th with a 22 rifle nearby, the verdict was that he died of "gunshot wounds inflicted by his own hands." Earl Prior was the jury foreman.

Others who served as jurors in the three investigations are W. C. Henningsen, C. R. Morgan, George Lyon, Ray Croft, Charles Henningsen, Phil Sherry, Anthony V. Darr, Frank Ghigliotti and Grant Laumann.

BURGLARY CONVICTION YIELDS INDETERMINATE TERM IN SAN QUENTIN

Robert Gutierrez, who under the name of Frank Moralez was found guilty on charges of burglary in the second degree following a trial in Superior Court, is held at the county jail awaiting transfer to San Quentin prison.

The term prescribed by law, one to fourteen years, was the sentence passed on Saturday morning in Superior Court by Judge George H. Thompson after Defense Attorney Richard Barry had lost a motion for a new trial.

Attorney Barry had been appointed by the court to defend Gutierrez after the defendant had asserted he was without means to engage counsel.

Gutierrez was charged with stealing from the cabins of workmen employed at the Mountain Quarries.

48 INS. OF SNOW ON SUMMIT PROMISES HOLIDAY SEASON OF WINTER SPORTS

Highway Open To Through Traffic; Snowline At Kyburz Where Chains Are Required; Ten Inches Of Snow At Twin Bridges

The state Division of Highways Office at Smith Flat announced at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon that the Echo Summit is closed to traffic at Twin Bridges.

Snow depth on the summit was given as 48 inches and it was said the storm was raging with terrific fury.

The announcement said that the summit was blocked by snow at ten o'clock in the morning and the fury of the storm was so great that it was three hours before informants reached the nearest telephone.

A holiday season of winter sports activity in the Lover's Leap Ski area and the Echo summit vicinity was seen Tuesday in the light of reports that the snow depth at the summit is thirty inches.

U. S. Route 50 is open to travel. The snowline is at Kyburz where a one-inch fall is reported, and cars going beyond that point are required to be equipped with chains.

Pope Pius In Christmas Message Cites Needs For "New Order" In World

By UNITED PRESS
Pope Pius gave to the world today a Christmas message of peace—peace which he said must be constructed on a foundation of trust between nations, international morality, fundamental justice and an end to hate, propaganda, "certain national economic theories" and the doctrine that might makes right.

The Pope's message was delivered as Royal Air Force bombers taxied back to their British bases after delivering a fiery assault upon the French invasion coast to forestall any plans which Adolf Hitler may have to utilize the Christmas holiday for the start of his long projected invasion of the British Isles.

The RAF attack on the invasion coast went on until almost daylight. English Channel residents saw the sky lighted up for miles with flares, anti-aircraft shells and fires started by British bombs.

In Ireland, too, precautions were taken. Barricades were set up on the roads for the first time and armed soldiers patrolled the barriers with bayoneted rifles. A number of bombs were disclosed to have fallen in the past few days in the northern part of Ireland.

The chief centers of RAF attack on the invasion coast were Boulogne, Dunkirk and Ostend.

It was revealed that Britain's royal family will have no Christmas tree tomorrow. The traditional turkey will be served but many of the special trimmings of former years will be dispensed with by the Royal Household as well as by ordinary Britons.

LEVY ON MOTOR FUEL TO SET ALL-TIME HIGH FOR 1940

SACRAMENTO — Assurance that income from California's gasoline tax would establish an all-time record during 1940 was given today by Richard E. Collins, chairman of the State board of Equalization.

In a report covering motor vehicle fuel distribution for the month of November, Collins pointed out that the tax on a gallonage of 159,978,111 amounted to $4,799,343.57 for the month. This represented a gain of 3.70 per cent over the same month of the previous year.

Board records show that with the November total the gasoline tax already amounts to $51,991,178.85 for the year. The previous high yearly total of $54,323,050.98, established in 1939, will be surpassed by a substantial margin when the December, 1940, figures are included.

The November total was slightly under the October income which amounted to $4,978,361.29. It was the 20th consecutive month that gains had been shown over comparable periods of previous years.

Ten inches of snow is the measurement at Twin Bridges and Strawberry Resort reports two inches.

In Placerville, the total precipitation up to 4:30 Monday afternoon for the previous twenty-four hours was 1.81 inches and during Monday night and until 8 o'clock Monday morning an additional .53 inches of rain was recorded to raise the total for the season to date to 10.46 inches. The rain continued through the morning and gave promise of continuing through the afternoon as late Christmas shoppers sloshed about in the spirit of the season.

Although the rain Monday night was accompanied by strong winds, there was no report of serious damage as a result of the storm. The state Division of Highways office at Smith Flat mentioned small slides and a few trees down here and there throughout the county.

These, it was indicated, were being cleared away rapidly and there was no interruption to highway traffic.

The possibility of a "white Christmas" was seen by some unofficial observers "if the storm continues with a drop in temperature."

Montreal To New York And Pennsylvania Report 'Quake; No Damage

By UNITED PRESS
The Earth's skin stretched and trembled over a wide area of north-eastern United States and south-eastern Canada today for the second time since Friday.

From Montreal south to New York City and west to Pennsylvania houses and business buildings shook but no damage, other than broken dishes and dislodged pictures, was reported.

Father Joseph J. Lynch, S. J., seismologist of Fordham University in New York, felt the quake in his office and rushed down to his laboratory in the building's basement to find a record of what he said was "a repetition of Friday's surface unsettlement."

Lynch recorded the quake at 8:44 a. m. EST, and said its center appeared to be about 320 miles north in New England. He said it appeared to cover the same general area of last Friday's tremors and to be of about the same intensity.

All of New England felt the shock and reports of jarring tremors came from Quebec, Ontario, New York state, Long Island and Pennsylvania.

Vaughn barley outyielded both the Atlas and common varieties in Tehama County.

BOSTON COLLEGE, MEETING TENNESSEE IN SUGAR BOWL, DECLARED TO BE KIND OF TEAM COACHES DREAM OF AND GET ONCE IN LIFETIME

By HENRY SUPER

United Press Correspondent

NEW YORK, (UP)—Boston College team which plays Tennessee in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl is the kind of eleven that most coaches dream of having — and get perhaps once in a lifetime.

The Eagles went through a 10 game schedule unbeaten; they were the highest scoring team in the nation; they won the Lambert trophy emblematic of the eastern championship; they had five players named on various all-America teams; and eight of their seniors were on the recent national football league draft list.

This will be B. C.'s second straight trip to a bowl game—something of a record for Coach Frank Leahy. He was line coach for Jimmy Crowley at Fordham when Boston College lured him away last season. Leahy's team last year lost only one regular game—to Florida—and played in the 1940 Cotton Bowl, losing to Clemson by the slender margin of 6-3.

B. C. has a potent offense that rolled up 320 points in 10 games.

Its defense yielded only 52 points. The first string line, which averages 208½ pounds, didn't yield a touchdown on the ground all season. The backfield averages 178½ pounds.

B. C.'s major victims this year were Tulane, Temple, Manhattan, Georgetown and Holy Cross. B. C. won the Tulane game in New Orleans, 27-7, even though it was a 9-5 shortender in the betting. Tulane, rated as one of the strongest teams in the country before the season started, never recovered from that attack. Georgetown's 23 game winning streak was snapped, 19-18, as B. C. overcame a 10-0 deficit and won one of the great games of the season. Against Holy Cross, B. C. suffered a letdown—a case of bowl jitters—and barely squeezed out a 7-9 victory.

The Eagles rode to those victories on a variation of the Notre Dame system. An intricate array of laterals, flankers, single, double and triple reverses, end around plays and passes stem from this diverse back field setup.

EIGHTEEN NATIONAL FORESTS IN STATE

EMBRACE 19,000,000 ACRES, SOURCE

OF WATER FOR IRRIGATION AND POWER

SAN FRANCISCO — California's 18 national forests, covering over 19,000,000 acres of public domain, constitute one of the State's most precious natural heritages—an heritage upon which millions of men, women and children vitally depend.

Hence, in this light, the business of forestry, and the functions of the United States Forest Service, take on an aspect of deep significance to California and Californians.

The average citizen is apt to regard a tree as nothing more than a tree, and a forest as simply a whole lot of trees. Which, of course, is far from the real story.

Water, the white gold of industry and agriculture, not to say life itself, would be a scant commodity were it not for our national forests —the watersheds that drink in the rains and snows and release them as they are needed.

Eighty per cent of the hydro-electric power which turns the wheels of a good part of California industry is generated by streams originating in the national forests of the state.

Two thirds of California's 4,750,000 acres of irrigated farm and fruit lands, and more than 3,500,000 persons in 150 communities, are directly dependent upon national forests for their water.

Domestic livestock numbering in excess of 500,000 head—cattle, sheep and horses and goats—and wild animals, birds and fish forage and feed in the timber stands and their waters. The national forests are open to regulated mining, and from them annually comes the lumber that supplies building materials and employment for thousands.

More than 1,200 free public camping grounds dot these national forests of California, offering camping, hiking, winter and summer sports and recreation for vacationists, and hunting and fishing for the sportsmen.

The Forest Service, a division of the Department of Agriculture, was created in 1905. Headquarters for the California division, known as Region Five—there are ten in all—are in San Francisco, under supervision of a regional forester.

Under him green-clad foresters guard California's immense timber resources, waging ceaseless war against the blight of disease and insects and the carelessness of other men, who annually are accountable for something like 85 per cent of the damage which fire wroughts in California forests. They regulate logging, to make sure that the trees that are harvested, others are planted to take their place, so that future generations will have wood and water.

Forestry is a business—a big business, tremendously vital to California.

America's Young Men Find a New Kind of Life in the Army

THOUSANDS of young men, volunteers and draftees alike, are today swelling the ranks of the U.S. Army as the nation's gigantic defense program moves rapidly forward. And in the Army, America's young men are finding an entirely new kind of life, different from any they have previously known. Regardless of his background in civilian life, the young recruit shares his tent or barracks with five or more other men whom he has never seen before, learning the theory of soldiering and the reality of the comradeship of men in arms. Most important single individual to the young recruit is his drill sergeant, who supervises practically all of his activities, is sometimes severe but always a teacher.

THE QUARTERMASTER CORPS of the Army maintains 12 schools for bakers and cooks where a four-month course is given to train mess officers. Keeping up to the American standard of food consumption, the U.S. Army makes liberal allowance for an unfailing supply of healthful food. No scrimping is encouraged, and today's soldier finds that his daily fare is varied and substantial.

The Quartermaster Corps buys food in large quantities and then distributes it to the various posts. Eggs, milk, vegetables and other fresh foods are bought in the area of each Army post. Average cost per day of feeding a soldier is about 42 cents, with variations depending upon local prices.

BASIC UNIT of every army is still the infantryman, and his rifle is still a powerful weapon. Not until he has mastered its use, with other fundamentals of combat, will he be taught the mysteries of the more complicated arms. The lessons that American Army men have learned from the wars in other lands are being put into practice today, the latest March of Time film, "Arms and the Men — U.S.A." reveals. The film, which shows how the young men in Uncle Sam's new citizen army live, what they are learning, how they are being trained, and many other phases of the nation's defense program, points out that the U.S. has but recently begun to mechanize its army. Young Americans take an absorbing interest in everything mechanical, and today they are being taught the complex details of tanks and planes along with the new techniques of battle. In dress rehearsal, the film shows, every man plays again and again the part he may some day be called upon to take in deadly earnest.

Today's Sport Parade

By Henry McLemore
United Press Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, (UP) — There is something about owning a race horse that affects a man's judgment to such an extent that it is doubtful if even a supreme court justice could own one and still retain his full power of reasoning.

Give a justice a sway-back colt with bowed tendons and the hiccoughs and the chances are he'd back it, at even money, against Chaledon and go around telling his friends to just wait until next May and they'd see his silks come home in front in Louisville.

If this isn't true, how in the world can you explain the nearly 100 nominations that have been made for the next running of the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap in March? I was looking over the list of horses named for that race (in view of sending Uncle Clabe a $2 winner book ticket on a 1000 to 1 shot as a Christmas present) and you never saw such a collection of chaff and wheat, goats and sheep, buckshot and caviar in your life.

For every horse that has a chance to win the race that is entered, there are ten fugitives from the plow, milk wagon, truck farm, and antique shop. You can understand an owner entering a horse just for the thrill of seeing his silks pass by in the parade to the post, but there are horses entered for the Handicap (just as there are for all the rich stakes) whose only chance of getting to the post without breaking down would be for the jockeys to lead them along with carrots and lump sugar.

Why are owners this way? Why do they throw away their money? It costs in the neighborhood of $1,000 to send a horse to the gate in the Handicap, and that's a nice neighborhood.

Having never owned a horse myself, and therefore being unable to answer my own question, I turned to a couple of Hollywood turmen for the answer—Bing Crosby and Dave Butler.

Crosby was practicing chip shots at the Lakeside Club when I queried him.

"A man's pride in his own judgment is the answer, I believe," Bing said. "The owner is the one responsible for the purchase of the horse and he just hates to admit that he is wrong. So he strings along with him even after everybody else knows the horse can't run a lick. Take me with High Strike and Sabueso. I stayed with them long after it was evident to everyone else that they couldn't beat a fat man out of the front door. And there's another angle that accounts for an owner hanging on when everybody else has given up. That's the natural liking for a horse a fellow gets. When a horse has been eating out of your hand for a year or two, and muzzling you when you enter his barn, well, he becomes a sort of friend and you don't quit on friends, do you?"

Director Butler, who did the fine picture "Kentucky" and who knows as much about horseflesh as anyone in these parts, wasn't at all surprised by my question.

"Hell, you just own a horse once and see what happens," he said. "In the first place, the trainer gives you a line of talk that convinces you the horse has the possibilities of a Man O' War. If it takes him two minutes to run a mile the trainer says he is bringing him

"CHARTER PILOT" EMPIRE THEATER OFFERING FOR TUESDAY ONLY

With Lloyd Nolan and lovely Lynn Bari, those ever-scraping screen sweethearts on hand to battle not only each other but sabotage in the skies, "Charter Pilot" promises fast and funny entertainment for patrons of the Empire Theatre in its Tuesday only showing. Nolan is starred in the new 20th Century-Fox film while Lynn heads a fine featured cast including Arleen Whelan and George Montgomery.

"Charter Pilot" has Nolan as a wise-cracking flying ace and Lynn as his radio-queen girl friend who dramatizes his adventures on the air. Sparkled with snappy dialogue and crammed with spine-tingling action revolving around the exploits of the daredevil aviator, "Charter Pilot" was marked by preview audiences as one of the standout romance-thrillers of the season.

Highlighting the action film is the spectacular and suspenseful climax set in Honduras. Nolan and Lynn quit their scrapping when they discover that a saboteur has put poison gas in the oxygen tanks of a plane along slowly or that he will find himself in a week or two, or that he can't hurry him in his work with a rich stake still two months off. Soon you begin to believe that your horse is a potential Santa Anita winner that needs only a little time and a little luck to win a fortune. Then, there is the outside chance that all the good horses will drop out and that your horse will be dropped in there with his own class of dogs to beat. There are very few men who can resist a 100 to 1 shot. And that goes double when the long shot belongs to you."

There's your answer for the 100 to 1 shots. A mighty good answer, too, because I just played one in the winter books.
